Present your boss with this letter to request to join the CCWomen platform.

Hi [Approving Manager]:

I request your approval to sign up for membership to CCWomen's digital platform, launching this June. We are making crucial decisions about our organizational strategies, and this membership will equip me with valuable intersectional insights to bring to these conversations.

I have reviewed CCWomen's existing portfolio of articles, PDFs, and events and am impressed how actionable the content is. Both [Company Name] and I could greatly benefit from building new business relationships, learning new best practices, and ultimately generating a positive ROI through CCWomen membership. Platform features that have particular relevance to our company include:

- Discussion Forum: These ongoing forums will allow me to network and benchmark with fellow members in regards to topics like Industry Best Practices, Leadership Skills, Work-Life Balance, and more.
- Virtual & Live Events: Through online events and in-person summits I'll participate in workshops and learn from case studies. I'll get access to sessions lead by expert speakers from leading brands like Marriott, Groupon, Verizon, HelloFresh, and more.
- Research-Backed Content: CCWomen boasts a robust library of content. They package research through a variety of mediums such as articles, toolkits, reports, worksheets, podcasts, videos, and more.
- Mentor Matching (coming soon): The next phase of the platform rollout will grant me access to a one-of-a-kind mentor matching tool. By seeking an external mentor, I'll expand my breadth of industry knowledge and get extra time to develop professionally.

I will be able to share my takeaways from the platform with our entire team on a regular basis. Do I have permission to join the waitlist for membership? I want to make sure I am first in line in order to get the most out of all that CCWomen offers. Let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you for considering my request. I look forward to discussing this in further detail.

Sincerely,
[NAME]
